

Time to Read Hebrew

Taught by Matt Nadler
matt.nadler@gmail.com

Learn to read Hebrew through decoding letters, vowels, and words. After this primer a student should be able recognize and sound out everything necessary to begin deciphering Hebrew texts. This is great for people who want to start learning the language (i.e. get your feet wet), or want a little review of the basics. Families welcome!

When: Tuesdays @ 7:30, starting January 22th, 2008

(twenty lessons in the book = ~twenty weeks, plus possible breaks for holidays, etc.)
